

FEED YOUR CREATIVITY

MEALS THAT MAKE SUMMER POSSIBLE

Summer can be one of the most challenging times of the year for children facing hunger. When school is out, many children lose access to the meals they rely on, making it harder to have the nourishment they need to learn, play, grow, and thrive.

Students in grades K-12 are invited to create artwork inspired by the theme "Meals That Make Summer Possible." Show how nutritious meals help children make the most of their summer by giving them the energy to play, explore, spend time with family and friends, and enjoy everything the season has to offer.

Use this guide to help your artwork stand out!

Get Inspired: Create Art That Makes Summer Possible

This year's Feed Your Creativity campaign centers on "Meals That Make Summer Possible", celebrating how nutritious meals give children the nourishment they need to learn, play, grow, and enjoy all that summer has to offer. Through your artwork, show how access to food can make summer brighter, healthier, and more joyful for children and families in our community.

Drawing Examples for Students

A Summer Full of Possibilities:

Draw a scene filled with the things that make summer special, such as playing outside, swimming, exploring, spending time with friends, or enjoying a family picnic. Show how a nutritious meal gives kids the energy they need to make the most of their summer.

The Meal Behind the Adventure:

Illustrate a child enjoying a summer adventure, such as riding a bike, playing a sport, visiting a park, or exploring nature. Include a nutritious meal as an important part of the story, showing how food helps fuel the activities and experiences that make summer possible.

A Plate Full of Summer:

Create a colorful plate filled with nutritious foods such as fruits, vegetables, grains, and proteins. Around the plate, draw the summer activities those foods help make possible, from playing with friends to learning something new or enjoying time with family.

A Summer Picnic:

Imagine a vibrant summer picnic where children and families gather together to enjoy a nutritious meal. Show the fun and connection that can happen around the table, while highlighting how access to summer meals helps children enjoy the season.

From Food to Fun:

Create a creative illustration that shows the journey from a nutritious meal to a day full of summer fun. You could draw a trail, rainbow, or series of scenes connecting a meal to activities like swimming, playing, reading, creating art, or spending time outdoors.

Every Meal Makes a Difference:

Draw a child or group of children enjoying a summer filled with possibilities. Include nutritious meals throughout the scene to show how consistent access to food helps children feel energized, supported, and ready to learn, play, grow, and thrive.

Tips for Creating a Winning Design

- Focus on possibility: Show what children can do, experience, and enjoy when they have access to nutritious meals.
- Use bold, bright colors: Make your artwork eye-catching and full of the energy and joy of summer.
- Show summer fun: Include activities, places, or experiences that represent what makes summer special to you.
- Make food part of the story: Show how nutritious meals help fuel the moments that make summer possible.
- Make it meaningful: Let your art inspire others to learn about the importance of summer meals and help ensure every child has the food they need to thrive.
